Information and
Locations

Before the pomp and circumstance of Opening of Parliament; before the re-enactment and gigging of faire and participation at the Scottish games; before the presentations at the various school events or the fun and frolic of socializing at the guild picnics, members of St. Andrew's Noble Order of Royal Scots are asked to participate to their fullest in training for themselves and newer members on the 5th and 19th of January, 2008 from 11:00a.m. until 5:00p.m., at Castle Dunvegan, 305 Mondavi Lane, Brentwood, California.

Topics to be presented at these initial training days include (but are not limited to):

- Guild Announcements
 - Discussions on proper reverence
 - Who's Who in Court
 - Who's Who in the Guild
 - Court etiquette and introductions to Her Royal Majesty
 - Parade lineup
 - Rules to play by
- Future topics will include (but by no means be limited to):

- Scottish history
- Battle re-enactment
- Basic Faire Accent
- Safety issues
- Improv, gigging, and acting
- Costuming do's and don'ts

- Dance practice and the importance of dance in court

Since the hours for training span the lunch hour, members are encouraged to bring sack lunches and beverages for themselves and also to wear clothing that will serve you well outdoors should circumstances warrant participation in a more spacious or open area.

For records purposes it is important to bring with you in written form for each and every joining member for 2008:

- Real Name
- Character/Faire Name
- Household you are participating in
- Postal Address
- E-mail address
- Telephone and cell phone numbers
- Best times to reach you
